This action will not be the last, and will be continued until we have views of an opposite nature. The contemplated bill has been perfectly well selected, meant to ascertain whether there is likely to be any distinct improvement in that line of our business or not; but it is not so easy to ascertain. At a moment's notice, the matter lies in the sole consideration of the Parliament, and I do not think we need have any present apprehension with regard to the future conduct of that branch of our business.

The resolution was then put and carried unanimously.

On the motion of the CHAIRMAN, seconded by Mr. A. G. WOOD, it was agreed, "That this Bill, as it stands at present, does not meet the spirit of the year 1889, as now exists, and is therefore expedient to do so, and if after making due provision for claims and out-standing liabilities, any further profit may be found to have accrued in respect of that year, the sum shall be dealt with in such manner as, under the Article of Association, seems advisable."

The meeting then terminated.—Daily News.

NORTH FORMOSA.

KELING, 15th October. Many times have we seen things beginning in quite a different way from that in which they end. The Chinese have at last had out what is the right thing to do, it is now, and then it will be expensive, and it costs a little money, but we may be thankful that we have a motive power in the person of our Governor, who will have the work done instead of letting everything go to the old handmen as they do in every port of China.

BEIJING, 27th September. Mr. Tsui Ying-Wai, has taken charge since the beginning of this month.—He has already ordered work to be begun on the new mine at Wang, situated about 4 miles S.W. of the old mine, and about 3 miles south of Keling, by the side of the river. He has also appointed the surface men, and is a man of singularly strict character.

A line of roads will be laid to connect with the main trunk line just by the bridge, which leads over the river. It is contemplated to buy steamers for colliers and to acquire a heavy dredger to deepen the inner harbour.

Emperor William never entertained the idea of reprisals. Chancellor von Caprivi had a conference with Baron Moltke, and accepted the terms of the peace of 1870, and the Japanese have summarily settled the dispute of Count Kalckey, the Austrian-Hungarian Premier, for combined reprisals against the United States in retaliation for the McKinley Tariff Bill.

Another attempt has been made upon the life of the Czar. This time the conspirators planned to wreck a train by which it was believed the Czar intended to travel from St. Petersburg to Warsaw. An obstruction was placed upon the track in the shape of five sheep, which were driven into the engine, and the train was stopped, which was supposed to be carrying the Czar, who was exposed to the elements of the weather.

Two brothers, Joss and Carnicous Dias, were executed this morning for a particularly atrocious crime. They attacked a Turkish woman and subjected her to the grossest indignities. This husband sought to avenge his wife, but was shot dead by the others, who had gathered around the woman and inflicted the blows in a horrible manner.

RUSSIA AND TURKEY. LONDON, 29th September. Dispatches from Exeter say the situation in Armenia is serious. The Russian Government has sent a large force of troops to Armenia. The Turks are also active, and are attacking and capturing the Kurds with arms and ammunition, and making other preparations to repel the Kurdish forces. Russia is also increasing her frontier garrisons on the boundaries of Austria, Turkey and Persia. The alleged object of this increase is to provide for the more effective suppression of Armenia.
